

This Mastery Skills training is designed for individuals with a foundational understanding and knowledge of the topic. Prior experience in the subject is required to fully benefit from the programme.

This training is scheduled to run on Thursday, September 28, 2023, and Friday, September 29, 2023.

Improve your designs with our "Product Visualization with Blender" professional course, tailored for designers, engineers, and architects at Enterprise Fablab. Gain expertise in harnessing Blender's cutting-edge 3D rendering capabilities to create stunning visualizations that captivate clients and stakeholders alike. From photorealistic product images and short videos, this comprehensive course empowers you with the skills to breathe life into your concepts and elevate your professional portfolio. Enrol now and embark on a transformative journey to enhance your visualization prowess with Blender.

Enhance your skills and elevate your product design skills with Carl, a seasoned and visionary Product Designer with a wealth of knowledge in manufacturing. With an impressive 9-year track record in 3D printing, CNC milling, and digital design, Carl brings a unique blend of design thinking, hands-on problem-solving, and data-driven analytics to the table. From furniture design to cutting-edge technologies, his diverse experience will expand your horizons and spark inspiration within you. Join Carl's transformative training course and immerse yourself in a world of possibilities. Don't miss this golden opportunity to learn from a true industry expert and take your career to new heights. Enrol now and let Carl guide you on a remarkable journey of design innovation and success.